Pioneers Ask Aid
For Restoration

Local Urban Renewal officials will meet with the City Council Tuesday to set a Town Meeting date on Part II of the Cameron Urban Renewal program.

The Town Meeting, a requirement for Part II approval, will include a progress report and a question-answer session for interested citizens.

Bernard Johnson engineering consultants were in Cameron this week for an "informal" work session with Cameron Urban Renewal directors on the Part II report that will be submitted for Housing and Urban Development Agency approval in August.

Part II is the plan for execution of the Urban Renewal program, land purchase, relocation and construction.

Mrs. Roman Lehnert, local Urban Renewal Agency secretary, said engineers estimated that Part II approval would probably take about a month, which would mean that actual construction on the nine-block downtown modernization could be underway by October.

In addition to the Town Meeting, Part II requires a second appraisal of buildings involved in the project and an outline of relocation possibilities for businesses in the area slated to be torn down.

The Cameron Pioneer Cemetery Association is asking for help in continuing the restoration of the Old Cameron Cemetery, a local historic landmark dating back to 1845.

The cemetery is located about a mile east of Cameron on US 77, between the city and Little River bridge.

Ed Westbrook, chairman of the Association, reports that much has been done to clear brush and other debris from the grounds, but three large monuments will have to be repaired before they can be replaced.

"While we are waiting for the bluebonnets to make seed, the cemetery is being over-run with weeds and grass," he said, "just as soon as the seeds ripen and fall out, we'll mow the grass."

Westbrook said one of the monuments, a tall one near the front of the cemetery, will have to be repaired with re-enforcing iron before it can be raised.

He said donations received by families and other interested persons were used to hire labor to clear brush and wild undergrowth which had covered many of the graves, "but now we're out of money," he said.

Westbrook, an active 83, is making small concrete markers for a number of graves that just had bricks or small boards to show the location. Most of these graves have no names.

A visitors' registration book near the cemetery gate has the names of numerous visitors, many from out of town, and several from out of state.

Donations may be made to the restoration fund at the Citizens National Bank in Cameron, where the fund was established.

Students To Stage Play On Milam

Seventh grade Cameron Junior High students will present a historical play at 8 p.m. Friday, May 8, in the Cameron Junior High gym, Miss Mary Belle Batte is author and director.

The play, in pageant form, will have scenes and skits from Milam County's mission period through reconstruction, 1744 to 1875. More than 100 students are in the cast.

"The play is similar in theme to last year's production," Miss Batte said, "however it has been revised to include more of the history of this region."

Proceeds from the play will be used by the students to take a historical tour. Last year the tour included a trip to Huntsville and Independence.

Tickets will be 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults.

Assisting Miss Batte are Miss Mildred Thornton, Mrs. Grover McCullen, Mrs. Price Minter, Mrs. E. J. Burkes and 7th grade sponsors, Mrs. Cecil Anderson, Mrs. Patsy Edmonds and Max Morgan.

Battetown Church Has New Pastor

Rev. Robert L. Bunn officially began his pastorate of the 100-member Battetown Baptist Church with services on Sunday.

Rev. Bunn came to the Cameron church from Kempner, where he was pastor of the Kempner Baptist Church since 1966.

A native of Belton, he has served as associate pastor of the South Aldine Baptist Church at Houston, and as pastor of Sparks Baptist Church, Sparks, and First Baptist Church at Nolanville.

Rev. Bunn holds a Pastoral Certificate from Southern Baptist Seminary. Before entering the ministry when he was 35, Rev. Bunn was a salesman based at Houston.

Rev. and Mrs. Bunn moved to Cameron last week. They have one son, two daughters, and three grandchildren.

Sermon 'In Dialogue' For Special Service

First Christian Church, Cameron, will have a 'sermon in Dialogue' at 7 p.m. Sunday, May 3. Participating will be Rev. H. J. Swink, pastor of First Christian Church, Rev. Wirt Skinner, First Presbyterian pastor, and Bob Carney, who is entering the ministry.

Sermon topic is "Where the Church is today and where we're going."

Now With F.M.I.

The President has committed troops to Cambodia. He told the American people the other night it was a calculated move to rid a particular area of Viet Cong headquarters, if successful a military coup.

He said the decision is in or out for him. He acknowledged it may decide his length of stay in the White House.

The circumstances are difficult. And it is likely, like previous administrations, he is the only one who can know enough of the situation to make that kind of decision.

NOW-NOW-NOW

Who knows what makes a man stand? Or stay seated?

Maybe it's his mother's character or his father's mind or his family's way. Maybe it's just steel spine to spare. Maybe it's madness or vision or a little of both.

It's like asking where the words come from when he speaks or where words go when he finishes.

Who knows?

A man is. Period. He is what he is whatever and whenever.

He may inspire many or none. When he laughs, he really laughs. He may not talk much unless he means to say some-

Bare Wires Blamed For House Fire

A fire inside a house at 1009 South Burleson on Wednesday afternoon caused heavy damage to the interior, but no injuries were reported.

Cameron volunteer firemen said the fire was caused by bare wires on an electric fan that was left running while the occupants were gone.

The fan was on top of folded quilts placed on a chair and reports said the chair caught fire, igniting the quilts, and spread to mattresses in the room and the ceiling.

Cameron residents are helping make the United States the gabbiest nation in the world.

According to Lee Carson, manager for Southwestern Bell, the average number of calls made by Cameron telephone users outnumbered the combined average calls of their counterparts in Ireland, France, Argentina and Switzerland. Carson said the average Cameron resident makes 701 calls a year.

Carson said one reason for all the talking in Cameron is the number of telephones in the town. Based on 1968 statistics, he said, Cameron has more telephones than the entire country of French Guiana.

Cameron had almost 3,000 telephones in 1968 as compared with the 2,990 total telephones of French Guiana. Carson stated that Texas with 4,480,194 telephones had more phones than the country of Sweden with 4,110,579 telephones.

These figures are based on statistics presented in the American Telephone and Telegraph booklet, "The World's Telephones." They are the most recent statistics available since it takes about a year to collect all the information from all countries of the world.

Carson pointed out that nearly half of the world's 237 million telephones are in North America. The world's communications network was increased by some 15 million telephones in 1968 with more than six million of these added in the United States. Texas contributed 325,983 additional telephones to the total.

In the five states Southwestern Bell serves -- Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas and Texas -- there were more telephones in 1968 than in Mexico and the U.S.S.R. combined.

Mexico had some 1.2 million telephones and Russia some 9.9 million, while there were over 11.4 million telephones in Southwestern Bell territory.

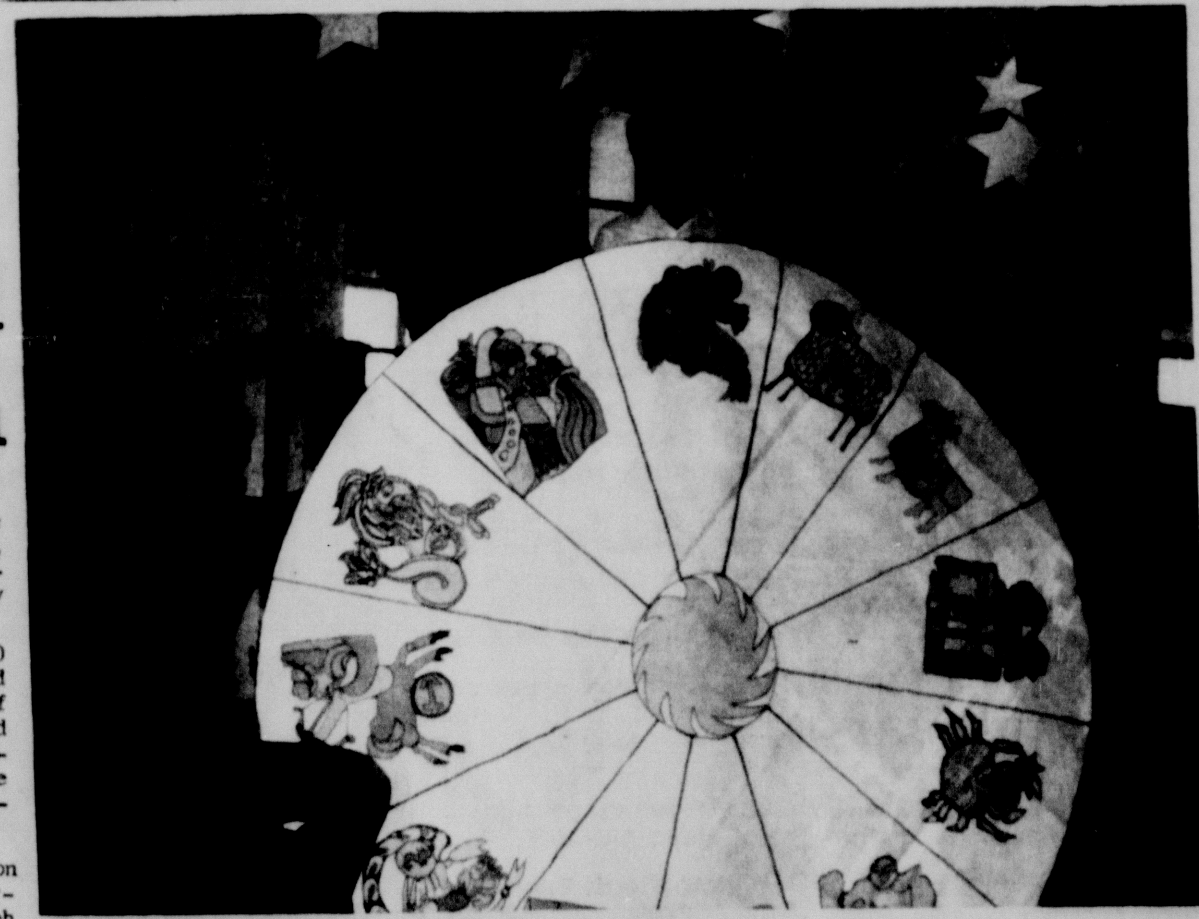

The United States can also boast having more telephones per person than any other country. For every 100 persons in the United States there are 54 telephones.

This compared to 51 for every 100 people in Sweden, the second place country. Volta, Africa, is the least developed telephone country. There are four telephones for each 10,000 persons.

WORSHIP in CHURCH

Second Sunday in May

...in America that means Mother. Every second Sunday in May is Mother's Day, one of the greatest of special days. It is a time when men, women, boys and girls take pains to do her homage, to dedicate to her — with simplicity and love, the simplest of things she wants most. Since it is her day, may the countless details and careful planning be in strict accord with her varied tastes. May we never forget life's uncertainties, disappointments and failures as we make plans to celebrate. May we forget all the foibles of men and remember her love is steadfast, sure. Who else can kiss a hurt and make it well? Who but Mother can control the Prodigal's steps? Then honor her with all you have on this Lord's Day. Lend a constant, kind and friendly hand as you take her to church. It is your Mother's Day.

Taylor Co. Farm Wife Is 'Conservationist'

COLLEGE STATION
A Taylor county farm wife who believes natural resources must be saved for the nation to survive has been named State Conservation Homemaker of the Year for 1970. She is Mrs. Frank Brnovak of Merkel.

Regional winners are Mrs. Leon Henley of Childress, Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins of Knott, Mrs. Fred Johnson of George West, Mrs. H. L. Burkhalter of Crockett and Mrs. E. R. Lewis of Haslet.

The Texas homemakers were chosen from candidates throughout the state by a panel of conservation and home economics specialists in recognition of achievement in the area of conservation in the home and on the farm.

The annual event is sponsored by the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Soil and Water Conservation Districts and other groups.

The Bronovaks and their two children are active in their community. They work hard to provide much of their own food and conserve their land's natural resources.

Mrs. Brnovak believes their farm is better than when they bought it because of their continued conservation practices to control cedar, mesquite, soil erosion, air pollution and water pollution.

The four members of the Henley family raise cotton, grain sorghum, small grains and livestock on their farm; they are active in church, education, home demonstration and Farm Bureau work.

"There is a continuous need for people to be made aware of each person's share in our land and ideals to insure a bright future for coming generations," Mrs. Henley believes.

Mrs. Gaskins, mother of three, believes it matters not what you have, but what you do with what you have. She does the family budgeting, organizes household chores and preserves home-grown products.

The family is active in church, 4-H, community and school work and have been host family for a youth exchange student from Japan and Peru.

Mrs. Fred Johnson refinishes furniture, landscapes and helps her husband and five children with an extensive conservation program on their farm. It includes a stock pond and terraces for water control, water conservation and coastal bermuda planting.

"We felt that by taking care of the land properly, it will greatly reward us now and in the future for the children," says Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Burkhalter and her husband have worked in their community to improve the parks, and school and organize a teenage church group. On their farm they raise beef cattle, Quarter horses, hay, swine and chickens in addition to much of their own food.

She lists soil testing, stock pond building, weed control and planting coastal bermuda as conservation practices on their land. "Everything we have done has added to the appearance and value of our home and farm land,"

The Lewis family lives on a ranch north of Haslet where they raise beef cattle, hay, small grains, cotton, wheat and maize. They practice water conservation, parallel farming and contour farming.

Mrs. Lewis is disaster chairman for the Ladies Auxiliary Fire Department and past president of the Community Improvement and Development Program.

You Don't Say . . .

AUTOPSY
if you are pronouncing it aw TOP see.

AUTOPSY is correctly pronounced AW top see. It means, of course, post-mortem examination of a human body, especially when ordered by a coroner.

This is generally mispronounced, but for those of you who wish to be truly correct—use AW top see. It is the pronunciation you will hear educated people use.

Eggs, Pork Head Good Value List

COLLEGE STATION

Shoppers this week will find lower egg prices, lower pork prices and an abundance of fresh fruits and vegetables in the grocery store.

Most economically priced produce are apples, oranges, grapefruit, strawberries, cantaloupes, celery, cabbage, carrots, potatoes, asparagus, dry yellow onions, green onions, turnips and mustard greens, according to

Some of the varieties in her collection include Snowberry, Blue Abundance, White Madonna, Stained Glass and Pearly Shells. Mrs. Matula said her husband's favorite violet is "White Kathleen" which is a semi-double variety.

At present she has about 26 varieties in bloom.

Perpetual Spring Indoors For African Violet Enthusiast

African Violets cover the den in the Charles Matula home, 1701 North Cleveland, Mrs. Matula bought her first plant in Killeen in 1967, discovered they could be rooted from a single leaf, and has been growing them ever since. It has become a pleasurable hobby with her now and the collection has grown to include over seventy varieties.

The African Violet was discovered by Baron Walter von Paul-Illaire in 1892, growing in the wilds of East Africa, while he was District Governor of German East Africa, Hofmarchal Botanical Gardens, at Herrenhausen, Germany, named the Scholarship Winners . . .

Congratulations to Monty Humble and A. J. Hurtik first and third, respectively in their YHS graduating class, for being awarded scholarships.

Other students in the 1970 graduating class will also receive honors, it is safe to say, but these are the first to be so announced.

Monty will receive a $1,000 National Merit Scholarship as one of 1,000 winners

DMS Rated, Chronicle Biggest Of PM's

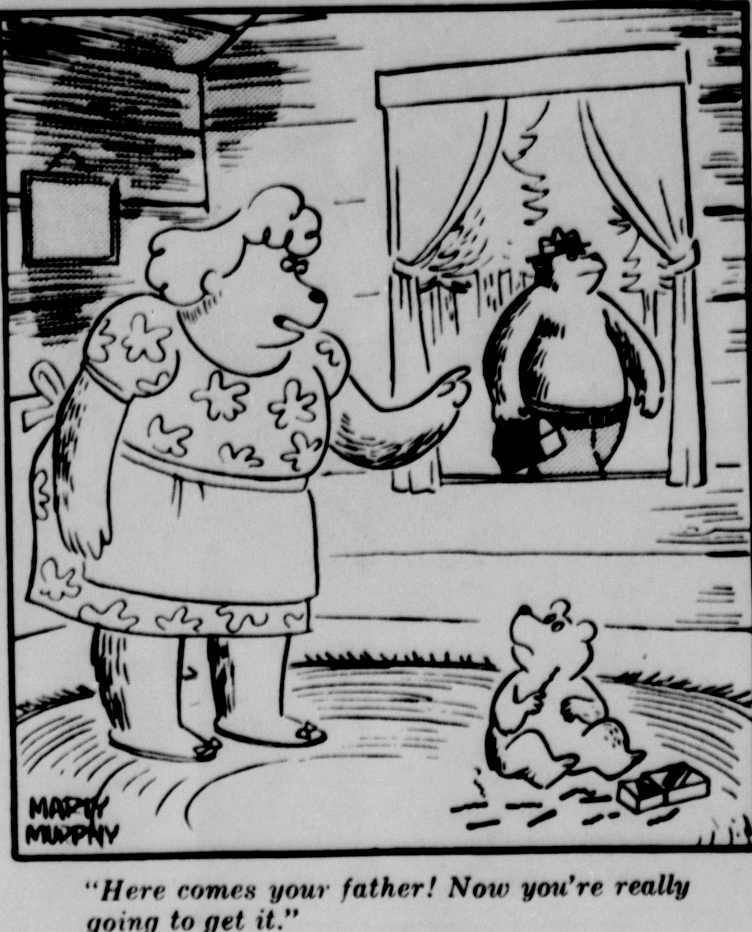

We note where The Dallas Morning News has been cited by other metropolitan daily publishers as one of the top 25 metro dailies in the country.

And we note The Houston Chronicle is now the nation's largest afternoon paper and The Houston Post now has an ultramodern new plant, the second in 10 years.

The News joins other great newspapers like The Christian Science Monitor, the New York Times, the Los Angeles Times, Milwaukee Journal, Wall Street Journal, the Louisville Courier-Journal among others, all rate among or near the uppermost 10 by publishers themselves.

To see the metros' incredible coverage these papers give, albeit it is difficult to consume it all these days, is a fascinating business. It makes a semi-weekly, regardless of effort, seem small even though growth is our good fortune.

There are now about 8,000 weeklies and 1,600 dailies in the country. Considering rising costs, scarce help, vastly changed technology and normal problems, the newspaper, regardless of size, plays a critical role in the developments of local, national and international issues in the 1970's.

State To Finance New Teacher Aid Program

AUSTIN — Teacher aides, non-professional helpers trained to take over the more routine tasks of classroom and laboratory, will be supported for the first time under the State Foundation School Program in the 1970-71 school year.

Details of the state financing plan were announced by Dr. J. W. Edgar, Texas commissioner of education, in a letter to all school superintendents.

"The decision to use aides rests primarily with teachers and administrators in individual school districts," Dr. Edgar points out.

"The aide is an extension of the teacher or other professional, performs routine and other duties under his direction, but does not relieve him of any legal responsibility for the instructional program in the classroom."

More than 6,300 aides are now working in Texas public schools, all earning salaries primarily paid out of federal grants or by the local school district. These include helpers for teachers working with disadvantaged, migrant, bilingual, and special vocational students.

State funds will help finance teacher aides for the general instruction programs and special education classes beginning September 1, 1970. The Foundation School Program will reimburse local schools for each aide authorized at the rate of $300 per month for a 10-month school year. This salary base may be supplemented by the local district, however. The number of aides hired by an individual school may be governed by a number of factors.

However, the number of aides which will be supported, at least in part by the state, will be based on the number of students in average daily attendance.

Beginning with the 1971-72 school year, salaries, education experience requirements, and the use of aides supported by the Foundation School Program will be governed by the Texas State Public Education Compensation Plan as set out in House Bill 240 passed by the 61st Legislature.

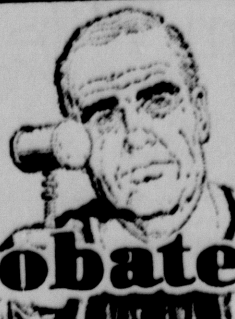

Education and other requirements for aides will be governed both by legislation and each school district's decision on what the aides will do in a particular type of classroom.

In special education, for example, aides must have at least a high school diploma or certificate of equivalency, plus training or experience in working with handicapped children.

Training programs for teacher aides will include an orientation to school operations and procedures, relationships with teachers, and the specific duties for each type of program. This indoctrination will be followed by inservice workshops and other types of training while working in the schools.

how to live - and die - with

Texas Probate

This is a condensed version of one of 10 chapters of a 21-chapter book, "How To Live—and Die—With Texas Probate," copyrighted by the Gulf Publishing Company. These condensations in no way cover the whole volume, which can be purchased from your local bookstore or from Gulf Publishing Co., P. O. Box 2708, Houston 77001.

WILL PROVISIONS

about paying debts that are unclear may cause confusion, delays and unnecessary expense. For example, the phrase "my just debts be paid" may be interpreted as requiring the executor to pay installment debts and long-term mortgages—a thing which might not be desirable.

FUNERAL EXPENSES

Funeral expenses and items such as tombstones, grave markers, crypts or burial plots are chargeable against the estate and not against the community share of a surviving spouse. As a matter of public policy, such expenses are granted a high priority for payment.

If there is no burial insurance and if the person has not otherwise provided for payment of funeral expenses in his will, then they will be paid out of such assets as are available in the estate before other debts.

ESTATE TAXES—INHERITANCE TAXES

Just as funeral expenses are a kind of involuntary debt against the estate, so are taxes due because of death. Federal estate taxes and state of Texas inheritance taxes may well be, and in many instances are, the largest charge against the estate.

Let it suffice to say that if a person's estate is larger than $60,000 the estate is subject to the federal estate tax and the Texas inheritance tax will likely be payable.

MANY PEOPLE have little cash but are wealthy "on paper;" that is, they may own a farm or ranch or have other assets that are of considerable value but are not like cash.

If, at death, the size of the estate is such that several thousand dollars in estate and inheritance taxes are due, then the only alternative is to sell all or a portion of the estate to raise the necessary cash.

PLANNING FOR THE PAYMENT OF DEBTS AND TAXES

Whether or not the will so provides, the one handling the estate is under a duty to pay debts of obligate. Community debts—those created during marriage—are primarily payable out of the total community property upon the death of either. A direction in a will that "my just debts be paid" does not ordinarily bind the deceased person's half interest in the community estate to pay the whole community debts.

- There are steps that may be taken to minimize probate costs, provide for the payment of debts and reduce estate and inheritance taxes. A few suggestions are:
- 1) Have a current will, expertly drafted, to clarify debt problems and effect tax savings.
 - 2) Sign a buy-sell agreement (with life insurance providing the funds) where a person is a member of a partnership or a closely held business whose interest is to be bought out at death.
 - 3) Buy a mortgage cancellation policy on the home to assure that at death the home will be free of debt.
 - 4) Have sufficient life insurance to pay debts, taxes and cost of probate.
 - 5) Invest regularly in liquid assets such as stocks, bonds and savings that can be converted to cash.
 - 6) Purchase endowment insurance on the children to insure their college education.
 - 7) Start a consistent program of cash savings for future financial security.
 - 8) During lifetime create only those obligations that can be paid without financial strain after death.
- #### SUMMARY
- A fact of our existence is debts, taxes and death. How debts and taxes are paid after death varies in direct proportion to the thought and planning given to them during life.
- A person who does not avail himself of the wealth of professional estate-planning talent available today is unwise. There is no substitute for competent legal advice.
- #### HOME-DRAWN
- or do-it-yourself wills can cause endless litigation and penalize the family by higher costs and increased taxes. One improper sentence in a will can destroy tax advantages that are legally available and can cause unnecessary taxes to be due.
- An attorney's fee for preparing a will which makes proper provision for payment of the debts, taxes and probate costs is small compared to the saving that can be effected.
- NEXT: There are no tax advantages in joint ownership of property but there can be tax disadvantages.

Poage On Ag Tour Of Australia

Cong. W. R. Poage was in Canberra, Australia last week attending the American Far Eastern Agricultural Attaches Conference.

He accompanied the Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, representatives of the House Appropriations Committee, and several Senators.

In his Washington newsletter, Poage said the meetings "are intended to help our attaches represent American interests more effectively."

He said he sometimes wondered "whether all these meetings are worthwhile" but added that "if we can instill in our agricultural representatives the idea that their obligation is primarily to the people of the United States, and that their function is primarily to sell American agricultural goods, we will undoubtedly be performing a worthwhile undertaking."

The House Agriculture Committee has passed on some sections of the general farm bill, Poage said, and work has "reached a point where we will need both some 'cooling off' and some opportunity for the staff to codify and assemble what has been done."

"The Secretary and the Administration have repeatedly assured us that for the next three years they are willing to continue to put approximately the same amount of money in the Farm Program which we have been receiving," Poage stated.

"Many of the farm organizations are challenging this promise," he said.

TEACHER SURPLUS?

The Nation's long-standing shortage of teachers appears destined to turn into a surplus, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Job openings for elementary and high school teachers are estimated to total 2.4 million for the 1968-80 period. The output of trained teachers during these same years will reach 4.2 million.

Farmers Union Directors Cite Cong. Graham Purcell

Cong. Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls was highly praised in a resolution adopted Saturday at a meeting of the Board of Directors of Texas Farmers Union.

The meeting of 40 directors and county presidents who compose the Board of the general farm organization unanimously endorsed a statement expressing appreciation to Cong. Purcell for his leadership in the House Agriculture Committee.

Erwin J. Pelzel of Burlington, president of the Millam County Farmers Union, attended the Waco board meeting.

Purcell, chairman of the Livestock and Grains Sub-committee, is the sponsor of the farm legislation endorsed by a 33-member Coalition of farm groups including Farmers Union.

The resolution stated: "The farmers of Texas owe Congressman Purcell a great debt of gratitude for his distinguished leadership on the House Agriculture Committee and his unrelenting determination to pass a farm program that will increase income to farmers and strengthen the economy in the rural communities."

"Congressman Purcell has demonstrated true statesmanship in his fight to preserve in the farm programs the fundamental principles that are essential to make the programs beneficial to farmers and to give our nation's consumers the assurance of an abundance of reasonably priced food and fiber. These basic principles include parity prices, a supply management program for farm commodities, and a loan program that will give farmers bargaining power."

A related action, the farm organization managing board adopted a strong resolution endorsing the Coalition of farm organizations and its ten-point statement setting forth the minimum essentials which must be included in an acceptable farm program.

School Held For Rogers PTA Heads

Mrs. Laura Tynes of Waco, president of the Ninth District of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, held a school of information for the incoming 1970-71 officers and committee chairmen of the Rogers P.T.A. Monday night in the homemaking building. She was assisted by her aide, Mrs. John Allison, also of Waco.

A buffet dinner was served by Mrs. George Richards, Mrs. Gladys Underwood, Mrs. Pat Landeros, and Miss Karrie Sue Isbell.

Mrs. Tynes and Mrs. Allison presented materials for each of the following officers and committee chairmen:

Mrs. Richards, president; Mrs. Milton Wendler, first vice president; Mrs. Marvin Ralston, second vice president; Mrs. C. O. Mayfield, Jr., third vice president; Mrs. Lloyd Morgan, secretary; Mrs. Wilbur Jackson, treasurer;

Also, Mrs. Edwin Psencik, parliamentarian; Mrs. M. H. Cannon, historian; B. F. Harbour, school representative; Mrs. Joe J. Dubcak, County Council Representative;

Also, for these committee chairmen: Mrs. A. P. Underwood, Mrs. B. F. Harbour, Mrs. Ronnie Wimberley, Mrs. Woodrow Chervenka, Mrs. Floyd Frow, Mrs. Adolph Pelzel, Mrs. Henry Skala, Mrs. Doyle Ray, Mrs. Darrell Henson, and Mrs. T. C. Whitley.

basic essentials, even if this action results in a stalemate and no new farm program.

According to Texas Farmers Union state President Jay Naman, "The 40 directors and county presidents representing farmers and ranchers from across the state unanimously demonstrated their support for the resolution by a standing vote. This action clearly showed that farmers are willing to forego a new farm program if the only alternative is one that does not assure at least the minimum income of the present program."

Presidential Order Sets Changes In Draft Rules

On April 23, President Nixon signed an Executive Order effecting changes in Selective Service regulations.

Future occupational, agricultural and paternity deferments will no longer be granted, according to the order.

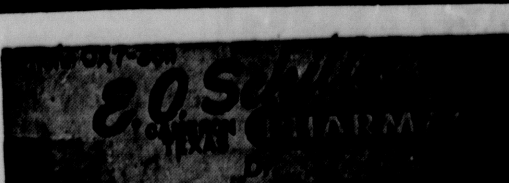

The order directs that no future deferments shall be granted on the basis of employment.

treine hardship would result.

All those who held paternity deferments before April 23 as well as any who may be granted deferment from pending applications filed before April 23 will be deferred as long as they are living with and supporting child dependents.

Additional information may be obtained from local draft boards.

CAMERON'S PARADE OF SPORTS

JOHNNY BARRETT AND TROPHY GIRL

Johnny Barrett of Camaron was winner in the 75-lap main event at Waco Speedway in the summer of 1969. Johnny has an array of 138 trophies won during his 15 years of highly competitive race driving in Texas and Louisiana. And just to put the icing on the cake, Johnny has won two State Championships in the "Super Modified Class." Johnny has retired from active race driving, but when the motors start to roar during racing season, Johnny may be on the sidelines, but his spirit is out there on the track. Science Teachers View Alcoa Pollution Control

Fourteen area high school science teachers may now have a better understanding of the concern and attention that Aluminum Company of America and its Rockdale Works has given to the control and abatement of pollution problems -- in the past, the present, and in the future.

Alcoa's concern with air pollution abatement began long before air control laws were passed. And the local science teachers learned how Alcoa's company-wide concern has been translated into a program of action -- involving great amounts of money and many man-hours to insure a cleaner environment.

More than $55 million has been spent in the past 20 years on pollution control facilities and an almost equal amount will be spent in the next five years to maintain existing control systems and to install new equipment.

In Rockdale Works' two newest potrooms, about 12-1/2 percent of the total capital went for fume control and recovery equipment -- more than $8 million has been spent and a current program now under way will involve an additional $1-1/2 million at the Rockdale plant alone.

Local teachers attending the half-day presentation and tour were: Herbert Wade, Giddings High; H. K. Sartor, Thorndale High; Edward Presley, Caldwell High; Jackie Gibson, W. D. Spigner High at Calvert; Carl A. Peterson, Lexington High; Mrs. Betty Casey, Hearne High; W. E. Smith, Milano High; Clifton Seifert, Lexington High; Mrs. Patsy Nance, Yoe High; Supt. D. R. Dodson, Cameron Independent School District; Mrs. Frances Lee, counselor, Taylor High; Jimmie Coufal, Rogers High; and James Luckey and Bob Martin of Rockdale High.

Lott Youths Hear Kubiak

State Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale addressed the Lott High School Junior-Senior Banquet Friday, May 1, at the Falls Hotel in Marlin. His topic was "Leadership Starts With You."

Rep. Kubiak called for more young people to accept their responsibilities and show leadership in the vital areas of home, school, church and the community.

"Constructive, creative involvement by our youth will assure our nation of realizing the dreams and goals that are the potential of modern America," he said.

In his concluding remarks, Kubiak pointed out that by accepting realities, exercising the ideals of youth and wisdom of age, plus working hard to achieve these ideals, "we can solve the problems of today and attain a greater future for each individual in our world."
